

Adding a New PCT Application

Before adding a PCT application, it must exist in the WIPO database first. To add non-PCT applications, see the tutorial Adding a Non-PCT Application.

1. To add PCT applications to the system, you must log in first. The log in is found under the LICENSE OR SELL menu.
2. Once logged in, you'll find members only links under the LICENSE OR SELL menu. Click Add PCT Application.
3. Enter the PCT application number using the two fields and the format indicated.
4. In order to proceed further, you must agree to the terms of use and you must have the legal authority to offer your patent application rights for sale or license. If you agree, check the checkbox.
5. Click ADD PCT APPLICATION.

By default, your entry is activated in the system, but you could uncheck this box to hide it from the search results.

You have the option of adding a message to potential buyers. This message appears on the contact form that appears as the buyer contacts you.

Click a region name to view all countries listed in that region. You can fill in your asking price and/or check Licensing Available on a country by country basis or fill in your values by region. If you enter by region, you can individually override each country within the region.

Usually, WIPO shares the written opinion in PDF format, but in cases where it's missing, you can manually upload it yourself, if you have it in PDF form on your computer.

9. After setting your values, click SAVE. That's it. Now your PCT entry will appear in the search results.
